

Victory for Physicians: Plaintiff Lawyers Cannot Grab Larger Slice of Settlement

Recently, the Illinois State Supreme Court ruled 7-0 in a case which would have upended the current procedure for how health care liens are disbursed in civil cases. Plaintiff's lawyers were seeking to deduct attorney fees from civil case settlements prior to calculating liens paid to health care entities and physicians.

In essence, this change would have prevented health care professionals from receiving the full reimbursement to which they are statutorily entitled.

The ruling, supported by the Illinois State Medical Society, calls for the statute to be "unambiguous and does not permit the deduction of attorney fees and costs prior to calculating the amount to be paid to any health care lienholder."

Kudos to the State Supreme Court for not allowing plaintiff lawyers to further game the system!

Medical Identity Theft Is Rising. Here's How ISMIE Protects Your Practice.

According to a recent article in Forbes magazine, health care organizations have been hacked more than any other industry over the past three years. The reason is simple: Medical records contain a slew of highly sensitive information, namely credit/debit card and social security numbers.

But ISMIE policyholders can rest assured. Cyber liability protection is a feature of your policy at no additional cost (subject to a deductible) and covers:

- Unauthorized disclosure of patient health information and patient identifiers and failure of computer security to prevent a system breach.
- Privacy breach response services, which include costs for a computer security expert and notifications to affected individuals.
- Any regulatory proceeding brought against the policyholder because of an unauthorized disclosure, security breach or failure to disclose such acts in violation of a breach notice law.
- Income loss and any extra expense that is a direct result of a computer system's failure due to a "security breach."
- Claims arising from your medical practice's website media content.
- Fines and costs incurred under the terms of a credit/debit merchant services agreement.
- Reimbursement for expenses related to crisis management and public relations.

All policies, including new business and renewals, are issued a cyber liability endorsement – at no additional cost to policyholders.
